DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 2 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claims 2 and 4, now as amended, call for “the means for transmitting transmits the signals by using a plurality of channels in one sector, and make frame transmission timings different between the plurality of channels.” Emphasis added. However, there is no support for this limitation in the originally filed specification. Specifically, there is no description about using a plurality of channels in one sector where transmission timings are different among the channels, specially when considered in light of the base claim 1. In other words, according to the claim, the spreaded signal should be transmitted b using a plurality of channels where transmission timings are different between the plurality of channels. But there is found no such description in the originally filed specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1,3,4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Strich et al (US 6,473,447).

Claims 1 and 4.

Strich et al discloses (see Fig.2) a base station having a plurality of sectors and transmitting a signal comprising a plurality frames (Information signals), comprising;

means for generating the signal (not shown but inherent as a source of the information signals), means (42,44,46) for spreading the generated signal by using a long code, means (75),76,...,80) for transmitting the spreaded signal, wherein the means for spreading makes the phases of the long code are different between the plurality of sectors (by $\Delta\theta$'s), see col. 8, lines 32-35, and the means for transmitting makes frame transmission timing different between the plurality of sectors. See delays 95A,...,95F). see col. 8, line 65 – col.9, line 14.

Claims 3 and 6.

Strich et al discloses the long code phase and frame transmission timing are determined on “an offset value of the sector.” See col.8, lines 10-21.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 2634

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
